GENERAL INFORMATION:

To clean X-All herbicide from spray equipment, flush several times with clear water after each use. Among the weeds controlled: alfalfa, bluegrass, Canada thistle, chrysanthemum weed, crabgrass, dandelion, foxtail, kochia, lamb's-quarters, mustard, nightshade, pigweed, quackgrass, ragweed, smartweed, sow thistle, plantain, poison ivy, purslane, velvetgrass, wild oats, witchgrass.

DIRECTIONS:

Apply X-All herbicide to small weeds in the spring or early summer, or before weeds have matured and gone to seed. It is not necessary to spray bare ground before weed growth starts in the spring.

For best results on tall weeds, cut or mow to ground line and remove. Treat one or two weeks later when regrowth appears.

MIXING SPRAYS:

Fill the sprayer tank ½ to ¾ full with water. Pour in X-All herbicide while stirring constantly. Fill the tank the rest of the way with water and stir again. If the spray mixture is allowed to stand several hours, stir again before spraying.

In arid areas X-All should be watered into the ground if no rain falls within a week after treatment. X-All acts slowly but thoroughly. Weeds start to turn white or brown within a week and are usually dead in about three weeks. Small weeds growing actively are killed more rapidly than weeds in a dormant or dried condition.
