Title: Efficacy: Small scale Trials (Field) or Efficacy: Operational Trials

Details: A minimum of 1 confirmatory efficacy trial using at least 1 herbaceous plant species highly susceptible to feeding damage by deer (e.g., hostas) is required. It is recommended that white-tailed deer be used in the efficacy trial because it is the more widespread of the 2 deer species and the submitted efficacy data suggested that it was the more difficult to repel this species compared to the black-tailed deer.
