PRECAUTIONS

KEEP OUT OF REACH OF CHILDREN. Do not store opened flea collars near food or clothing. If the cat chews the flea collar or exhibits an adverse reaction to wearing the collar contact your veterinarian immediately. Do not use more than one collar at a time. Consult with veterinarian before using any other flea control product with the collar. If the collar is lost or removed, allow an interval of four weeks before placing a new collar on the cat. Used collars contain a substantial amount of active ingredient, care must be taken when disposing this product. Do not unroll the collar until ready to use. Loosen collar if any irritation occurs (usually indicates that the collar has been affixed too tightly). If the irritation continues remove the collar from the cat and contact your veterinarian. Consult a veterinarian before using on pregnant animals, sick animals or on animals under drug or other pesticide treatment. Do not use on nursing animals or animals under 8 weeks of age.

Discontinue use if adverse effects are observed. Wash hands with soap and water after handling the collar.

DISPOSAL: Wrap any excess collar length, the pouch, or expired collar in newspaper and dispose in household garbage.

FIRST AID: If contact with collar causes irritation, or if ingested, consult a physician or Poison Control Centre immediately.

TOXICOLOGICAL INFORMATION: Diazinon is a cholinesterase inhibitor. Atropine is antidotal.

NEW BUCKLE

ATTENTION! Do not open the safety buckle, but slide the collar through the closed buckle.

The new safety buckle has been specially designed to keep your cat problem free. There are two different automatic release systems to ensure she can quickly and easily escape if caught by the collar. As she tries to untangle herself the collar will smoothly slide through the buckle until she is free, or the buckle itself will break open when 5 kg of force is applied (e.g. by a struggling cat).
